Re: Children's National Medical Center NICU

Dear Will,

We have recently been informed that the Children's National Medical Center (CNMC) NICU project was awarded the Excellence in Construction award by the Washington Metro Area Associated Builders & Contractors. In addition, we have been awarded the Award of Merit by McGraw Hill Mid-Atlantic Construction Magazine Best of 2009. Your organization was instrumental in helping us achieve this success. In spite of the challenges we all faced on this project, we can all be confident that we have continued to build our positive relationship with CNMC and "raised the bar" for their expectations on all future projects. CNMC, as well as the project design team, recognizes that even under the toughest circumstances HITT Contracting and its subcontractors have the proven ability to provide a quality product, on time and within the budget.

On behalf of the HITT Contracting Healthcare Division and the project team at CNMC, I would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to Dominion Mechanical for its contributions to this successful project. Your efforts were an important key to the timely and successful completion of the project. We would like to recognize and especially commend the exemplary efforts of your project management staff as well as your site staff leaders including: James Dennehy, Jeff Price, Jimmy McDonnell, Allen Burch, Tad Burch, Jason Marcum, William Quaid and Dave Countis. Their overall "Team Approach" along with their hard work, timely attention to details, focus on quality and other positive qualities has proven yet again that Dominion Mechanical is one of the top subcontractors associated with the HITT Healthcare Division.

Please pass on our sincere thanks to all of the dedicated employees at Dominion Mechanical. We look forward working with you and continuing to build our relationship on future projects.

Sincerely,

HITT Contracting, Inc.
